Frugals #1 Port Angeles

Over the years Frugals has taught many young people how to work and develop skills necessary to succeed in life.

We are often the stepping stone for building the foundation of job skills needed to flourish in the workplace.

Frugals takes great pride in putting out our second product: a skilled worker who understands the value of a job.

A person who can take what they have learned in teamwork, communication, punctuality, and appearance.

These young people are always wished well when they move on. At Frugals we provide a safe environment and welcome the young person into our fold.

When you order a Frugal Burger today, you are also helping us build a solid citizen for tomorrow.

Way to go Tanya!!! Your creative ways of promoting are outstanding!!

Frugals #5 Kalispell

Frugals #5 showed their support to the community by donating coupons for the FFA Alumni Association for their Monte Carlo Fun Night.

Props to you Amy for staying involved and supportive of your local community!!!

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

"All true leaders have a tremendous responsibility to the future of others and, as simple as this sounds, it is most often overlooked. It's not about oneself. Recently, I made a presentation to an MBA class... I asked the students why they were pursuing their MBAs and, of course, most were seeking professional advancement; this was going to help them get promoted. Out of that class of about 40 or 50 students, there wasn't one who said he or she had an interest in helping others advance in their careers, which, I believe is the essential element of leadership. It's about helping and influencing others. An essential element of my leadership philosophy is that leaders should be the last in line"
